JURY TAKES UP MEYERS CASE

Mrs. Lamarre, Husband and Brother Called to Capital for Testimony.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Dec 1 — The woman who branded as "lies, all lies" Maj Gen. Bennett E. Meyers' claim that she was his 'girl friend" even though married awaits her chance this week to repeat the denial under oath

Mrs Bleriot H. Lamarre, her husband and her brother, T. E. Readnower, disclosed at Dayton, O, they had been subpoenaed to appear today before the federal grand jury which took up where a senate committee left off with the retired air force officer.

District Attorney George Morris Fay declined to say in advance, however, just when the trio would be called

Mrs Lamarre was not a witness during the sensation-packed senate hearings, but her husband lashed back at Meyers testimony in calling him a "snake"

Dummy Officers

Lamarre and Readnower had testified earlier they were dummy officers of Meyers' Aviation Electric Co at Dayton and that Meyers, then a purchasing officer for the air forces netted some $150,000 from the subcontracting concern

Meyers denied this and said he set up the firm so he could be near Mrs Lamarre, who, he said, was his "girl friend" with her husband's knowledge and permission

Fay would not say what type of indictment is being sought here against Meyers, but Attorney General Clark has promised to press charges of perjury, income tax evasion and war frauds against the dapper two-star general.

Since the hearings before a senate investigating subcommittee closed Meyers has been stripped of his decorations and deprived of his $550 a month disability pension

While the grand jury prepared to resume its deliberations after a long Thanksgiving recess, Army, Navy and Air Force authorities presumably were combing their files in search of data on all officers retired on tax-free disability pay

House Cleaning Ordered

President Truman let it be known Saturday that he wants the services to "clean house" and eliminate "any possible racket" dealing with such pensions, now going to more than 30,000 former officers

A second congressional group, house expenditures subcommittee, prepared meanwhile to lay the foundation for a somewhat [illegible] inquiry into contracts let to other companies.

Chairman Bender (R-Ohio) announced in Cleveland over the weekend that his subcommittee would meet behind closed doors today to consider information that Consolidated Vultee Aircraft of San Diego received $87,000,000 (million) in Navy funds for 1,100 planes of which only 180 were delivered

Navy Plane Crashes Into Washington Bridge

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1—A Navy torpedo bomber today crashed into one of Washington's busiest bridges during a busy hour—and no one was seriously injured

The plane—which the Navy said it believes was piloted by Lt S T. Bitting—almost cleared the bridge But one wing caught, and the plane looped across the bridge which spans the Anacostia river just above its juncture with the Potomac

Witnesses said it was obvious that the plane was in trouble, and that hence traffic had stopped. Otherwise, the plane might have smashed into two lanes of traffic.

PHILADELPHIA FIRE KILLS 6

Others, Including Street Santas, in Ruins of Dormitory for Homeless Men.

By The Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA, Dec 1—Flames whipped through a dormitory for homeless men early today, leaving six known dead, 10 believed missing and at least 38 men injured—many of them employed as street corner Santa Clauses

Some of the victims were killed or injured in leaping from their quarters in the second and third floor of the Volunteers of America, Inc, as firemen—hampered by sub-freezing weather that turned the water from the hoses to ice against the building walls—fought vainly to prevent them from jumping

Thirty-eight men were listed as treated at three hospitals where doctors described a number of them as in critical condition.

Assistant Superintendent of Police Thomas P. Burns said that several hours after the blaze was brought under control 51 men had been accounted for, including the five bodies that had been removed to the city morgue.

Believe 10 Missing

This left 10 or more still missing from among the 21 or more believed by night watchman William Patterson to have been in the building

The blaze was first discovered by Patterson at 12 40 a m, and he ran through the first and second floors shouting the alarm

The flames—fanned by a high wind—spread rapidly through the four-story brick building which is occupied entirely by the Volunteers of America

The organization used the first floor for a shop in which new and repaired toys are sold during the Christmas season and furniture and clothing the remainder of the year.

Four Stories In Use

The second and third floors are dormitories for homeless men — many of them elderly and many of whom work as street corner Santa Clauses collecting donations for charity The fourth floor is a repair shop.

Major Thomas J Strickland head of the Volunteers of America here, estimated somewhere in the neighborhood of $50,000 damage

Sixteen members of a Kensington family were injured in another Philadelphia fire They were trapped as flames, apparently starting from an oil stove, swept their home Two of the victims were injured when they leaped from second story windows The others were treated for burns and smoke inhalation.

RELIEF BILL PASSAGE SEEN BY NEXT WEEK

Speaker Martin Says Measure Will Go to President Truman Soon.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Dec 1—Speaker Martin (R-Mass) said after a meeting of house Republican leaders today that emergency foreign-aid legislation should be on President Truman's desk by the end of next week

There is a possibility, Martin told reporters, the house will start debate this week and complete action on the legislation by the middle of next week

Martin said the conference of Republican leaders made no decisions concerning details of the legislation leaving that to the foreign affairs committee

The foreign affairs committee voted tentatively last week to trim to $489,000 the $597,000,000 that President Truman asked for winter relief for France, Italy and Austria Then it voted to add $60,000,000 for China

Senate Vote Near

In the senate, a vote appeared near on a $597,000,000 bill

As a preliminary step to a later decision on exactly how much actual cash should be provided, Senator Edwin C Johnson (D-Colo) asked the appropriations committee to determine whether a $232 000,000 "checking account" against American food supplies is left over from foreign aid congress voted last spring

Johnson wrote Chairman Bridges (R-NH) asking the appropriations committee to look into reports that only about $100,000,000 of the $332,000 000 made available in May has been spent thus far in aiding Italy, Austria, Greece and Trieste

Two of those countries, Italy and Austria, would share in the relief to be provided under the stop-gap measure which leaders hoped the senate would approve by nightfall without major changes

Wants To Be Safe

Johnson told a reporter he wants assurances that it will not be too severe a strain on American supplies to pile almost $600,000 000 in purchases of food, fuel and clothing on top of buying already being done for the earlier relief program

"If only $100,000,000 has been spent," he said, "the rest represents a checking account on our dwindling supply of grain and other food If we pile $600 000,000 more on that now, I want to know what is going to happen"

Carry Fight to Committee

While the senate seemed likely to approve the over-all authorization bill without lowering the aid limit, determined economy advocates carried their fight today to the house Republican steering committee

Although the house foreign affairs committee already has voted to trim the aid total for France, Italy and Austria by $108 000 000 and add $60,000,000 for China a drive was under way to have the committee reverse it 10-9 decision

Whatever the outcome before the steering group or the foreign affairs body the issue was due to be checked to a conference of all house Republicans tomorrow

Paris Subway Halted By Defiant Communists

By The Associated Press

PARIS, Dec 1—Strikes halted the Paris subway today and leaders of the Communist-dominated General Confederation of Labor defied the government's anti-strike legislation. CGT leaders summoned all workers 'to action,' asserting they would refuse to negotiate further toward ending nationwide walkouts if the legislation was enacted in the national assembly

Subways halted shortly after noon, when electric power was shut off by strikers Gas pressure was reported at 'danger levels' in the capital and service was reported stopped at Nice, Marseille and Cannes.

The assembly, which last night approved a call of 80 000 men to the colors to combat the creeping paralysis induced by the strikes, became such a well of tumult that it suspended for two hours its consideration of the strike law Neither the chairman nor speakers could be heard

With thousands stranded by the subway shutdown, Paris was plagued also by a strike at all six gas companies serving the suburbs The concern furnishing gas to Paris proper continued service, although the pressure was reported only half normal

Police and motorized armed forces opened roads in northern France to struck coal mines but few miners appeared to be returning to work Fights erupted at Lievin when 700 miners tried, apparently without success, to return to work

The majority leaders of the labor confederation which is supporting the strikes which left 2,000,000 or more Frenchmen idle, issued a statement saying blanket increases of 1 125 to 1,500 francs (about $9 50 to $12) a month had been demanded effective today, but that the government had countered by proposing to increase the wages of those still at work by 300 francs (about $2 40) for November only

Minority leaders met separately, and apparently agreed with the majority only in denouncing anti-strike measures The action appeared to represent a sharp cleavage in the labor movement at the moment when the new government of Premier Robert Schuman was demanding extraordinary powers to beat down the Communist leadership and protect those workers still on the job

The majority labor leaders said they had rejected government proposals because of their 'political and reactionary objective'

Most of the Lille-Roubaix-Tourcoing textile industry was back at work and railroads in the area also were operating

The Communist newspaper Ce Soir said police had struck at Toulouse and that general strikes had started in the Herault and Upper Garonne departments

Barge Blockade Broken

Three rows of barges which striking bargemen stretched across the Seine and Oise rivers to interrupt river traffic were broken open by police

Train service was being reestablished from all Paris terminals, although a new railway walkout was reported at Strasbourg The first train in four days from Lyon reached the capital

Government sources said the strike call to long distance truck and bus lines had failed

Authority to call additional men to the colors was voted by the assembly last night by a margin of 408 to 184 after a session which lasted 35½ hours Only the Communists voted against the measure, which would bring to 300 000 men the number added to the army since the current strike crisis and attendant disorders broke out two weeks ago

GERMAN UNITY PLAN OFFERED

Bidault Says French Zone May Be Merged with U. S. and British Areas.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Dec 1—French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault said today that if the London conference of foreign ministers failed to agree on the future of Germany, the French zone may be merged with the British and American zones to establish a unified western Germany.

Bidault, who is going to Paris tonight for conference with French government leaders, stated this position at a meeting with French reporters shortly before the foreign ministers council opened the second week of its sessions at Lancaster House

Russia Says No

Meanwhile it was authoritatively reported Russia had turned down today a French proposal for settling the issue of Germany assets in Austria, which is the chief barrier to completion of an Austrian peace treaty here

The French plan has been under consideration by a committee of deputy foreign ministers who are due to report to the Big Four tomorrow Action by the deputies may not necessarily be final.

The Russians contended they are entitled to all assets in eastern Austria formerly owned by Germans The French proposed that by way of settlement they accept payments of $100,000,000 (million) plus the Danube Shipping Co and a share in the Zirterdorf oilfield production.

Decline To Set Value

American informants, reporting on today's deputies meeting, said effort by the United States and Britain to get the Russians to fix a value on their total claims proved unavailing

TOLL OF LIVES TAKEN IN WAVE OF VIOLENCE

Eight Jews Killed in Holy Land Outbreaks Following Vote for Partition.

By The Associated Press

JERUSALEM, Dec. 1—The Arab Higher Executive today called for a three-day general strike of Arabs throughout the Holy Land beginning tomorrow to protest the United Nations decision to partition Palestine, which touched off a weekend of wave of violence that claimed the lives of at least eight Jews.

The executive committee urged Arabs to intensify their boycott of Jewish goods and labeled "any association with Jews high treason and a crime against country and religion. "The committee termed Nov 29—when the UN voted for partition—"a day of mourning and tyranny"

First signs of Arab violence developed yesterday when eight Jews were killed and 16 others wounded as buses were riddled by gunfire and streets were raked by shots in Jaffa.

Five Jews lost their lives and 14 were wounded—eight seriously—in two machinegun grenade attacks on buses traveling the Petah Tiqva road southeast of Tel Aviv.

Another Jew was shot to death in the Arab city of Jaffa near the Tel Aviv municipal boundary.

Unconfirmed reports circulated that Deganla, a Jewish settlement on the north shore of Galilee, was attacked during the afternoon

Meanwhile at Acre prison in northern Palestine 16 Arabs were wounded slightly when guards opened fire on Arab prisoners attacking Jewish inmates. It was reported that two Arab prisoners escaped during the disorder.

Some Arabs warned American correspondents to remain in their homes, explaining that the Arab masses blamed the U S for success of the partition vote.

Despite the undercurrent of tension, rejoicing by Jews continued in all quarters except some 30 settlements and villages which will be in the Arab state under the partition plan.

Arab Delegations Stage Walkout

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Dec. 1—The angry walkout of the six Arab delegations from the United Nations assembly in protest against passage of the Palestine partition plan opened a new chapter today in the bitter majority-minority battles in the UN

It was the fourth time in the 11-week assembly a defeated minority had attacked the victory of a majority and had refused to be bound by it.

The other three occasions involved the Russian group, which declined to accept majority decisions creating the "little assembly" committee, the Balkans watchdog commission and the Korean independence commission.

The Arabs indicated their walkout was meant only for the Palestine case, but spokesmen said yesterday they must await final instruction from their home government as to how far their protest was to be carried

The partition plan, sponsored by the United States and Russia, was approved by a 33 to 13 vote of the assembly late Saturday Ten nations abstained and Siam was absent

It was the only time the U S. and Russia had worked together on an important matter in the entire assembly

Possible New Arab Program Seen

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Dec 1—Speculation arose today that King Abdullah might seek to incorporate Arab Palestine into Trans-Jordan and, as a consequence of British support, might give Britain rights to bases in the port of Jaffa, Palestine.

An authoritative source said Britain is discussing with Abdullah's kingdom the possibility that its Arab legion might police the Arab part of partitioned Palestine after Britain lays down its League of Nations mandate over the Holy Land. The British relinquishment is scheduled for before Aug. 1, the United Nations deadline for the withdrawal of British troops.

The Arab Legion, according to the statesmen's year book, includes 8,000 men, comprising military, police and prison forces. Giving it the responsibility for law and order in the Arab sector of the neighboring Holy Land apparently would be designed to provide a peaceful transition to the time when an Arab authority

LACK OF COAL BLOCKS JAPAN

Fuel Shortage Handicap in Recovery Effort of Nation.

By The Associated Press

TOKYO, Dec. 1—The key to one of the major locks shackling Japan's recovery is coal—just as it is in Germany.

Since General MacArthur's occupation forces arrived, they have been prodding the Japanese to boost the output of coal to at least 36,000,000 tons a year.

In war, Japanese workers produced as much as 57,000,000 tons a year. MacArthur's industrial section estimates the Japanese will bring no more than 27,500,000 tons from the mines this year.

Both American and Japanese officials admit the mies are in poor condition. Machinery is out of date or much worn.

They admit also, however, that the production goal could be attained if workers, management and government would get together to increase the output.

The authoritative Nippon Keizai declares there is "a lack of burning zeal" on the part of all three.

Plenty of Labor

There is sufficient labor to get the job done. Nippon Keizai estimates 438,000 are working in the mines now, more than the wartime peak of 426,000 in February 1945.

Coal miners are among the favored few in Japan. They get extra rations, a preference when clothes are distributed and good wages—as wages go in Japan these days.

An American just returned from a long field trip through northern Honshu and the northern island of Hokkaido said some workers in the coal mining districts were even getting more food than they needed.

On Hokkaido he found workers rented four-room company houses for a little more than two yen a month. If such a house could be found to rent in Tokyo it would cost at least 10,000 yen a month.

American authorities may say one reason for limping coal production is the Japanese have too many workers above ground.

The ideal proportion, they say, is six men underground to four on the surface. On Hokkaido, 57 per cent of the labor force works above ground. Japanese don't want to go into the diggings.

Absenteeism Bad

Another trouble is absenteeism. In many mines, the miners work only four to five hours a day. They are supposed to work at least six. Before the war the average time was eight and a half hours.

Still another reason is company disinterest. A majority of the coal mines operate at a loss. The they can't possibly make a profit. companies say costs are so high The companies have borrowed huge sums from the government to keep the mines operating.

More gas in storage than ever before . . .
but still not enough!
THE OHIO FUEL Gas Company

The Southwest has enormous natural gas reserves, useful for many, many years. Pipelines from this source can't be built fast enough to keep up with ever-increasing demands. In months of warm weather we pack this gas back into the ground so that more will be available close to our customers in cold weather. We start this winter with some 26 billion cubic feet in storage — that's more than ever before. Still we may run short during extended severe weather. Any gas you can save now will mean more when you need it most — but the future is promising. As manpower and materials increase, so will facilities to deliver more gas to our customers.

EXPRESSMEN URGE EARLY SHIPPING

"Shop and ship early," is the [illegible] made by E. J. Saiter, agent of the local Railway Express Office here. "In December, with the Christmas season, the Express agency is always much busier handling express shipments than any other month of the year." he stated.

"We help out in the 'shop and ship early' programme by furnishing attractive 'DO NOT OPEN UNTIL CHRISTMAS' labels upon request," Mr. Saiter said.

A few helpful hints for shipping gift packages were offered by Mr. Saiter. "Careful packing is very important for each shipment. If a package contains delicate or fragile objects, it should be marked plainly, 'Fragile'. We affix our own Fragile labels to them, which no experienced expressman can miss," he added.

All packages should have at least two address labels or tags with complete names, street numbers and full name of city and state. Avoid abbreviations of cities and states because they may result in confusion and gifts may arrive at the wrong place.

"Don't wait to complete all Christmas shopping before shipping out the entire lot," is another timely suggestion made by Express Agent Saiter.

Air Express is widely used every year for shipment of Christmas gifts to foreign countries as well as to many points in the United States. Air Express, domestic and international, extends between the 23,000 offices of Railway Express in U.S. and around the globe to 72 foreign countries.

Mr. Saiter also pointed out that gifts for men and women in the Armed Forces abroad require only an export declaration. Packages should be marked "GIFT."

Your Good Health

Balanced Diet for School-Age Child

Over and over again I have emphasized the importance to everybody—man, woman and child of a well-balanced diet containing vitamins, minerals, and the proteins found in such foods as meat, milk and eggs.

Such eating is important for so many reasons that it would be impossible to list them all at once. Lack of it means lowered resistance, and lowered resistance has myriads of possible harmful consequences. One of these—and one which would scarcely be guessed at by the average person—is the fact that it allows certain parasites to gain a foothold in the body and take up quarters there, a thing almost never seen in the person who always eats properly.

Among parasites which may infest the human body, particularly children of school age are pinworms. These worms may often be present without producing any but vague symptoms. However, certain gastro-intestinal discomfort may result.

When pinworms in children do not cause anemia or lack of coloring in the blood they often do produce dark circles under the eyes and paleness. Sometimes there is itching around the lower opening of the bowel.

There is no relation between pinworm-infestation and bed-wetting, thumb-sucking, itching of the nose, or grinding of the teeth. However, restlessness and sleeplessness are often symptoms.

In about half the cases, there is an increase in the blood of the number of white cells known as eosinophils.

It is suggested that a preparation known as gentian violet be employed in the treatment of pinworms. In younger children under four, one tablet a day, for a week, is usually sufficient. Between the ages of five and seven, two tablets are given; between eight and eleven, three; and between twelve and fourteen, four are given. After a month, the treatment is repeated. The tablets are not chewed but swallowed whole.

If sickness at the stomach, vomiting, diarrhea, or constipation occurs, treatment is stopped for a day or two and then resumed.

Many children are carriers of pinworms. Even after they are treated to get rid of them, reinfestation may take place because of lack of cleanliness.

Another drug, which is sometimes employed in the treatment of pinworms, is known as phenothiazine. It is given daily for five days, the dose varying with the age of the child. However, it may be responsible for producing anemia in some instances. Hexylresorcinol is another drug quite frequently and successfully used for pinworm eradication.

Children with pinworms should be taught to keep their hands clean and out of their mouths. It is very important that they wash their hands thoroughly after going to the toilet and before eating. Their finger-nails must be clipped or cut short. The underclothing and bedclothing should be thoroughly laundered to eliminate all of the parasites on them, so that reinfestation will not take place. With proper treatment, it is possible to get rid of the troublesome parasites.

In Loving Memory

★Of our beloved husband and father, Fred Coffey, who departed from this life Nov 30, 1938

He had much style about him,
He always looked his best,
Sort of spent his life sowin'
Seeds of happiness.
Doin' little things for others,
Helpin' where he could,
Never makin much pretension,
Always doin' good
Had his cares and had his troubles
Same as all of us,
Figured them a part of livin',
Never made a fuss,
Made the best of all God gave him,
As through life he went;
Ever toiling, givin', takin',
Kind and provident.
Vain the tribute we would pay
him
Words cannot express.
What it meant to have him with us
And our thankfulness;
Sweet the memory he has left us,
Though our hearts are lone and
sad,
Great the blessing that was given,
Just to have had and call him

Temporary Quarters For Parcel Post Rush

Because of the increasingly heavy incoming mails the rooms at 228 East Center street formerly the Marion Gospel Center has been taken over by the Marion postoffice as a parcel post delivery center, for the holiday seaosn, Postmaster Homer D. Cole said today Only incoming parcel post will be handled at the temporary quarters, he said No parcels are to be mailed there

While the Christmas mailing has begun, it has not reached heavy proportions, the postmaster states, and practically all of the incoming parcel post mail is merchandise. Government mail trucks borrowed from the Marion engineer Depot have been put in use to facilitate delivery. Incoming mail totals as high as 1,500 to 2,000 pieces of parcel post a day. The additional trucks bring the number now in use to six, and with the addition of one more substitute on the staff today the total number of extra holiday employes to date is 12.

The postmaster is reminding persons with packages to mail to "do their Christmas mailing early" to insure delivery. All packages are to be mailed at the main office or sub-stations.

CANADIAN FARMERS TAKE GRAIN PRIZES

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Dec. 1 — Canadian exhibitors held most of the top awards, including wheat, oats and barley championships, at the 48th International Livestock exposition.

United States exhibitors, however, still retained the top awards in corn and hay, as well as the reserve championship in wheat and barley.

Top award of the grain show, wheat king, went to S. J. Allsop, of Red Deer, Alta., Can., whose sample of reward variety, hard red spring wheat was adjudged the finest of the show. Alex M. Stewart and Son, of Ailsa Craig, Ont., won the title of oats king with a beaver variety of early oats.

George Gwyllt, of Kelvington, Sask., Can., was acclaimed barley king.

Walter J. Harpel, 45-year-old Crawfordsville, Ind., grain grower, retained for Indiana the title of corn king with a 10-ear sample of yellow dent hybrid 844D. His victory was the twentieth won by Indiana in corn competition in the 25 year history of the grain show. Illinois held the title five times.

George J. Sauerman of Crown Point, Ind., five-time winner of both the championship and reserve championship in the hay competition, was again awarded the title of hay king and the reserve championship.

Ohio Potteries Short Of Gas for Kiln Heat

By The Associated Press

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., Dec. 1—Eastern Ohio potteries switched from natural gas to standby fuel oil or producer gas equipment to heat their kilns over the weekend following a 50 per cent cut in supplies because of the cold snap.

Officials of the Manufacturer's Light & Heat Co. in Pittsburgh said warmer weather today probably would permit natural gas curtailments of only 25 per cent to industrial consumers. Commercial and residential allotments were unaffected.

Now learning to walk again, doctors say he should be completely recovered within a year.

PROFESSOR FORMS DRIVE FOR WALLACE

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 1—An Ohio Henry Wallace for president committee" organized here yesterday with Dr. Colvin S. Hall, Western university psychology department head, as provisional chairman.

The group called a statewide meeting for Columbus, Jan. 11, to launch an Ohio campaign on behalf of the former vice president.

Nathan R. Zahn of Cleveland, executive director of the Progressive Citizens of America, described the committee's formation as "a spontaneous movement independent of any knowledge of Mr. Wallace."

Zahn said Hall and these these others called the formation meeting:

City Councilman James C. Simmons of Toledo, Mrs. Frances Dunn of Columbus, State Democratic committeewoman, George Biddle of Mansfield, state Democratic committeeman, former State Sen. K. M. Kirkendall of Dayton, Russell Hutchinson of Portsmouth, national representative of the United Shoe Workers of America, and John C. Kennedy, assistant administrator of the Oberlin College Conservatory of Music.

Ernst Lubitsch, Film Notable, Dies Suddenly

By The Associated Press

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 1—Death has taken Ernst Lubitsch, the producer whose deft handling of motion picture situations made the term "the Lubitsch touch" synonymous with sophistication in the film industry.

Lubitsch, 55, who elevated many a player to stardom and enhanced the reputation of many another who had gained fame before coming under his aegis, died yesterday after suffering a heart attack.

He had been ill several years, and collapsed in his bathroom, where he was found by his manservant, Otto Werner. A fire department pulmotor squad failed in an effort to resuscitate him.

Lubitsch, born in Berlin, went on the stage at 19 as the protege of the late Max Reinhardt. Attaining some success as an actor, he then became a producer-writer. He entered motion pictures about 1915, when the industry still was in its infancy.

Bricker Would Revoke Reds Freedom of Press

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 1—Sen. John W. Bricker (R-Ohio) believes the United States should take away the Communist party's right to freedom of the press.

"The right of freedom of the press includes the right to protect us from the destruction of our rights," the 1940 G. O. P. vice-presidential nominee said last night in the broadcast Columbus town meeting. "Since the Communist party is based on destruction of our rights, they should be prevented from doing so."

Bricker made the statement in answer to a question. He appeared with Sir Gerald Campbell, former British minister to Washington.

Midnight Fire Destroys Farm Home Near Galion

Special to The Star

GALION, Dec. 1—All that was saved when fire destroyed the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Hampton, eight miles south of Galion on the Jackson road, late Friday night, were pieces of living room and kitchen furniture. These were removed by Mr. Hampton and a few neighbors.

The fire started from a defective chimney, a spark igniting the roof of the frame home. The farm was recently purchased by Mr. Hampton, and it is familiarly known as the George Coulson farm.

The blaze was discovered by Mrs. Hampton who had arisen to take care of her 12-day old baby a short time after the family had retired at 11:30 p. m. She heard a slight crackling noise and aroused her husband. They found the entire second floor filled with smoke and fire.

With her baby, Mrs. Hampton hurried by automobile to the L. M. Sager residence about 1½ miles north of the Hampton farm to summon help. The Hamptons are living temporarily with the Sager family.

Sees Red Influence Declining in Finland

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Dec. 1—The coming elections in Finland will show definitely Communist strength has diminished and a great majority of the people are strongly anti-Communist, a Finnish newspaper editor predicts.

Jaakko O. Ikola, editor of a Conservative paper in Waasa, told the Finnish Temperance association last night that in the last war Finland "fought bravely for the same kind of demoracy for which the American people stand."

Ikola, who was a member of the Finnish parliament for 10 years, is on six-month tour of the United States and Canada. Twice a week he sends home accounts of Finnish communities he has visited.

The First elective office Abraham Lincoln ever sought was in the Illinois legislature. He ran seventh in a group of 10 candidates.

Full Dose For France

FRANCE, betrayed from within by Nazi fifth columnists in 1940, is struggling in 1947 to maintain its sovereignty against the threat of Communists. The French are getting their second full dose of the treason the United States sampled in 1940 and 1941 when its Communists did everything in their power to weaken the country with strikes.

French Communists, too, have claimed civil rights. They have hidden behind the law while practicing treason. They have talked loud and long about freedom from thought control. What they have never mentioned—what Communists never mention anywhere—is the fact they are members of worldwide fifth column. Every Communist owes his allegiance to the masters of the modern Russian state

Any government, any civilization, that wonders whether its Communist minority can be appeased should watch France, where a Communist fifth column is trying to do what all of them are pledged to try to do eventually; i.e., wreck all existing authority preparatory to setting up a Communist dictatorship.

Is the Gold War Next?

WRITING in The United Nations World, Dr. Charles Prince, specialist on Russian economic problems, says Russia's gold may be used as a weapon against the Marshall plan. He points out that Russia is increasing its gold hoard so rapidly it may be able to stabilize the ruble on a gold basis, using it to displace the dollar and the pound sterling in the transactions of countries exporting to Russia.

By alternately dumping and withholding gold, Dr. Prince says, Russia can cause a serious disruption in the exchange of goods and services throughout the world. He predicts the Russian gold reserve may provide golden bullets for the "cold war."

The problems and complexities of gold as a medium of exchange aren't always within the ken of the average man, but this he knows: the American dollar is in demand throughout the world today because of America's production record, not because we happen to have a large pile of yellow metal buried at Ft. Knox.

If Russian production and manipulation debase gold, we may have to adopt some new concept as a currency standard but that shouldn't be impossible. For all the average citizen ever sees of it, the Ft. Knox gold could be as mythical as the apples of the Hesperides.

Take Care, Conservatives

WHENEVER they appear in public, British Labor cabinet members will have a delegation of British Housewives league representatives on hand "to remind them of their sins and tell them what our views are." John Strachey, food minister, will be the special recipient of the league's ire but all ministers will feel it in some degree. The league is seeking 1,000,000 members, going on the assumption that no government will argue with that many.

This is a new and frightening aspect of the predicament in which the Attlee government finds itself. To be confronted with angry women at every turning is enough to dampen the man's zeal for office. Unless the Conservatives are certain they can improve Britain's situation quickly, they had better not ride their luck too hard lest they find themselves on the receiving end of this unwelcome attention.

No Captives in the Hills

REPORTS that Lolo tribesmen in the Chinese hinterlands were holding U.S. Army airmen captive have been disproved by a search party which has just returned from a 201-day expedition.

Tales of captive airmen aren't a wartime development. For years there were reports that Paul Redfern, lost while on a flight to Brazil, was living in the Amazon jungles. It has been just over 10 years since Amelia Earhart disappeared in the Pacific but there have been frequent rumors she survived on an atoll or had been seized by the Japanese at Truk.

Such conjectures make good novels and moving picture. But not since Stanley found Livingston has there been a spectacular jungle "rescue." And Livingston wasn't lost—he was living contentedly in the jungle.

Sackcloth Dresses

A NEWS item from Memphis says women of that city are learning what some of their country sisters have known for years—that a flour sack in the hands of a clever seamstress makes an attractive dress. Instead of Saks-Fifth Avenue, such dresses might be described as Sacks-County Line Road.

Dresses and other womanly habiliments fashioned from flour sacks are holdovers from a day when frugality and "make-do" comprised a way of life. They are reminiscent of home-made soap, hand-me-down jeans that might serve three brothers, and pillows and mattresses stuffed with by-products of the poultry yard.

It is good to hear again of garments made of flour sacks. They bring to mind that people once lived, reared families, went to church Sundays and seemed to be reasonably happy in a less materialistic age.

Scanning the Record

By George E. Sokolsky

China Could Use Our Waste War Material.

THIS situation in China is this:

The Nationalist government, under the leadership of Chiang Kai-shek, has been fighting the Chinese Communists, a branch of the Third International directed by the Kremlin, since 1927.

Between 80 and 85 per cent of the revenue of the Chinese government has been consumed in this fight.

Were Chiang the selfish dictator that he is made out to be by Russia's satellites in this country, he would have settled with Russia and/or with Japan, when those countries needed him, at terms advantageous to him even if not to his country. Chiang could have been a collaborationist. Instead he chose to fight.

SOKOLSKY

As I was closely related to all these groups from 1919 to 1931, I can testify, from personal knowledge and experience that this Chinese Communist group was organized by Michael Borodin, who, with Marshal Bluecher, then called General Galens, and about 100 Russian civilian and military advisers, came to China in 1924 and remained until 1927, when they were dismissed by Chiang. They thought he was their puppet.

The top command of the present Chinese Communist group consists of men who were then in the Third International, some of whom studied in Red army schools, attended conferences at Baku and at Moscow, and whose relationship to the Third International was recorded in the official minutes of this body as released in several languages in its official organ called the "International Press Correspondence." Those come-lately American journalists and publicists who write and say that the Chinese Communists are not Communists but only call themselves such, describe themselves either as willing dupes or propagandists.

Long War Period

Since Sept. 19, 1931, Chiang Kai-shek has been at war with Japan and the Communists. During the period of the Hitler-Stalin alliance, the Chinese Communists fought Chiang but were neutral concerning Japan. After Soviet Russia entered the European war, the Chinese Communists fought Japan but not too aggressively; they used that situation to capture Japanese war supplies and to inveigle this country into giving them supplies which they subsequently used to continue the Civil war against their own country. They played upon the vanities of General Stilwell, who was treated by Chiang Kai-shek, quite properly, as a subordinate.

It is true that China suffers from inflation and corruption. When a government is forced for 20 years to fight a giant like Soviet Russia and a great power like Japan and put down civil war, directed by Soviet Russia, utilizing its revenues for the sole task of remaining unconquered, it cannot develop constructive strength nor can it risk increasing dissension by putting down corruption. For, in addition to the tasks already indicated, Chiang Kai-shek functions in a transition from feudalism to nationalism, involving a shift from predatory officialdom to some type of representative government.

Valuable Help

In all his efforts, Chiang has had the support of the United States, without which he would have been squeezed to defeat by Russia and Japan. When Mr. Truman became president, he sent General Marshall to China, where he remained for a year or more, attempting to effectuate a peace between the national government and the Communists. Such a peace would have been disastrous to China and to the world.

The calamity is that after General Marshall's visit the United States has put Chiang off, giving the Communists and Soviet Russia the advantage. Chiang, now unaided, is reaching a state of exhaustion. Without our assistance, it is even possible that by next spring the Communists will be able to make most, if not all, of China as much a puppet of the Kremlin as Poland now is.

Chiang needs most of all war supplies which he can only obtain from the United States. This country possesses vast stores of such supplies which rot and rust in many stores in the Pacific area. Those supplies are obsolete and are not worth the cost of returning them to the United States. For Chiang, they are not obsolete and they mean freedom for his country.

Why do we not give him those supplies? Are they worth more as rust than they are as strength to China? Who is preventing this country from giving them to Chiang?

Not Even a Fair Trial Marriage

A Nevada couple, wed on Saturday, filed for divorce on Monday.

Their married life was just a non-alcoholic Lost Weekend.

I've heard of fleeting fancies, but never before less than 48 hours from "I do" to "Adieu."

Who knows? Their union might have been even briefer but for the fact that lawyers' offices are closed on Sunday.

I don't know about their courtship, but they certainly repented in haste. In their case, love must have been only half-blind; otherwise it couldn't have opened its eyes so soon.

I still think too many people are showing up in a divorce court with rice in their hair. Even toothpaste ads ask a 10-day trial . . . is it fair to give matrimony less?

Reich Border Settlement

By Walter Lippmann

NO ONE can possibly say as yet whether in fact the conference in London is to develop into a genuine negotiation or whether it is to be, like so many of the meetings at the UN, an arena of maneuver and propaganda.

But the first indications are not unfavorable. For, while the maneuvers for position and the propagandist appeals are evident enough in London, the four ministers have at least started to discuss the questions which they must decide if they are ever to reach a German settlement.

They have not started with another quarrel about procedure or about how to administer the occupation of Germany, or even about reparations. They have begun with the frontiers of the new German state and with the formation of a German government.

These are the very questions they must discuss first if they are really in earnest about reaching a settlement and writing a peace treaty.

It stands to reason that there can never be a peace with "Germany" until there is a decision as to what Germany is—that is to say, what are the national frontiers of Germany? No one can make peace with a country if no one knows where that country begins and ends.

Nor can a country have a genuine government if no one knows what territory that government is to govern. The fixing of frontiers is, therefore, the indispensable first step in the making of peace.

Next Necessary Step

The next necessary step in a country which, like Germany, has no government is to form a government which has legal authority over the Germans in German territory, can be held responsible for the execution of the terms of peace, and can govern the country when the occupying armies withdraw.

The fixing of the frontiers of Germany is by all odds the greatest decision which has to be taken. All the other questions at issue are transitory.

No one can possibly know for certain whether the constitutional structure of Germany, as it might be set up in 1947, will last very long.

No one can do better than to make a big guess about the economic future of Germany over a period of 10 to 15 years. Therefore, all reparation agreements that have to be executed in the future are obviously tentative.

But, by contrast, the drawing of a national boundary, especially in Europe, is a decision which must be regarded as irrevocable. That is to say, the frontier cannot be changed peaceably. The effort to change an important frontier will arouse passions which, if the past is a guide to the future, must lead to violence.

It is now settled irrevocably that Germany has lost very large and important territory to Poland and to the Soviet Union. Even if Mr Marshall can induce the Russians and the Poles to make some territorial concessions, Germany will still have suffered huge losses in the east.

Desire To Review

These losses will be so large that irredentist sentiment—the desire of the Germans to recover what they have lost—must be taken for granted.

There is no reason to suppose that the Germans will accept any more willingly a somewhat smaller loss of territory. We must remember that they never accepted the comparatively trifling loss of Danzig and the Polish corridor after the frist World war.

Therefore, whether or not the Potsdam line is modified somewhat—and the Poles would be wise to accept some modification as part of a general settlement—the fact will remain that the new German state will have been pushed back toward the west.

What has happened in Europe is that Russia and Poland have both moved westward—first, the Russians up to the Curzon line and then the Poles up to the Potsdam line.

The crucial question is whether a quiet Germany can be established under these conditions. There are two great dangers both of which have to be dealt with if there is to be a durable peace.

One is that Germany, as she recovers her strength, will be able to make an alliance with Russia by another partition of Poland.

The other is that she will be able to make an alliance with Russia and Poland at the expense of Austria and of the Netherlands, Belgium, Luxembourg and France.

New German Line

German nationalism, the German irredentism which Secretary Marshall is so rightly concerned about, is—in the absence of wise precautions—bound to seek satisfaction either by a partition of Poland or by a push to the west. Just as Russia has moved up to the Curzon line and Poland up

Headaches and Hurly-Burly

By Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON

THE non-Communist provision of the Taft-Hartley law has already caused an immense hurly-burly throughout the labor movement, and migraine headaches for members of the national labor relations board. The board leaped one hurdle when it ruled that officers of the national labor organizations need not sign the law's non-Communist affadavits. But it is now evident that despite this ruling, more hurly-burly in the labor movement and more headaches for the labor board are in prospect.

ALSOP

The strange legal maze, which the legislators unwittingly created in their attempt to cut the Communists in the labor movement down to size, is typified by the pending case between the Remington Rand Corporation and the United Electrical Workers. This case may have an important impact on the whole pattern of labor-management relations.

The Remington Rand Company has asked the NLRB to hold an election in its plants to determine what union represents the majority of its 10,000 workers. These workers are now organized in the electrical workers' union. But the United Elecrical Workers is not only the third biggest union in the CIO. It is also the largest Communist-dominated union in the country. Largely because if they did so most of them would be clapped into jail on perjury charges, officers of the UEW have refused to sign the Taft-Hartley Law's non-Communist affidavits.

Intention Obvious

There seems little doubt that the congress intended that any union whose officers refused to sign the affidavits could have no place on the ballot in the NLRB election. Thus if the NLRB orders an election in the Remington Rand plants, and if the UEW is denied a place on the ballot, the resulting election will obviously be strictly on the Balkan pattern. The thousands of workers who belong to the United Electrical Workers could not vote for the union of which they are members.

In this curious Balkan-type election, two things could happen. A rival union could take advantage of the situation by successfully horning in. This is possible in the Remington Rand case. The Independent International Association of Machinists has long been hungrily eyeing the electrical workers' bailiwick. Since the electrical workers would not be on the ballot, the machinists would have an enormous tactical advantage. The machinists might be the legal victors, even with a minority of the workers actually supporting them.

On the other hand, the members of the UEW, denied the opportunity of voting for their own union, might adopt the expedient of marking their ballots for "no union." Obviously neither course would make for industrial peace.

Trouble Virtually Certain

If the machinists won with what might actually be no more than a small minority of the workers backing them, very bad trouble between the two factions of workers could certainly be expected. But if the majority of the workers voted for "no union" with the real purpose of protecting the UEW from its rival organization, labor-management relations would automatically revert to the law of the jungle.

Both sides could depend on their economic strength alone to protect their interests. That might lead to the worst kind of trouble. The Remington Rand Company, which created the hated "Mohawk Valley Formula" to fight the CIO in the early days, is not known for its tender regard for labor unions. On the other hand, the Communists who run the UEW are as ruthless as Communists generally are. Thus the end result might well be a fierce and bloody trial of strength outside the law.

Many Would Be Liberal

Certainly this is not what the framers of the Taft-Hartley law intended. That is why there is considerable sentiment on the labor board that the law should be so interpreted as to allow a union a place on the ballot even if its officers fail to sign the non-Communist affidavits. In certain cases such a ruling would actually protect the interests of employers. It would prevent jurisdictional strikes between rival unions, one of which had not signed the affidavits and thus, for the labor board's purposes, did not legally exist. But this interpretation of the law would require much finagling with the clear congressional intent, and NLRB counsel Robert Denham is known to oppose it.

The basic issue—whether the non-Communist clause of the new labor act is constitutional—will eventually be decided by the supreme court. No one knows, of course, how that body will decide. But it can certainly be argued that the wording of the law, which requires a union officer to swear that he "does not believe in" Communist doctrines, skirts perilously close to thought-control, and thus threatens the Bill of Rights.

At any rate, one thing seems clear already. That is that to attempt to wipe out Communist strength in the labor unions by legislation is a doubtful experiment. As Walter Reuther's smashing victory in the auto workers has demonstrated, it is better to rely on the plain good sense of the rank and file of American labor.

Selective Price Control Would Treat Symptoms, Not Causes of Inflation.

SINCE it becomes more evident daily that Pr ident Truman was talking politics in as for price and wage control, Republican ans are taking on characteristic political terms. T President's own statement about a "police sta is thrown back at him. And the Republican h command coins the neat phrase, "A cop in ev kitchen."

But the Truman proposal cannot be shaken by phrases, however neat. It can be answered reasonable terms of sound economics. And answered on the assumption that the proposal was sincerely made.

MOLEY

In the first place, we must note that the current inflation is of an unusual, perhaps an unprecedented character. It differs from past inflation in several respects. It is not caused, as was inflation in the early Roosevelt years, by government borrowing. The budget is in the black, with the prospect of a big surplus. Government debt is large, but it is being slowly reduced. Th inflation is not caused by the liquidation of w time savings, because the dollar volume of sa ings is rising, not falling.

Three elements are mainly responsible for th current wave:

▶A huge amount is being spent for armame —the largest ever seen in peacetime, except the prewar period.

▶There are large exports for which there is n payment.

▶The work week is shorter in many businesses, for which there is no compensation greater productivity per work hour.

All this has produced a state of unbalance economy.

An attack on these basic causes of inflatio would seem preferable to an attack on the results through price and wage control. To tha end, B. M. Baruch made his proposal for a per cent increase in the work week—with pa of course. Also, if national defense is to require great expenditures, there should be more savings in the non-military areas of government. An there should be more efficient export contr A number of other remedies which would als attack basic causes might be added to these

Other Suggestions

To attack symptoms, not causes, by selective price and wage control would invite furthe inflation and failure.

Selective price control failed early in the war, and, belatedly, over-all control was imposed. President Truman proposes to go back to the system which failed in 1941-42. Presumab selective price control would be mainly in food. We have already seen how, without the incentive of wartime patriotism, black markets grew and grew. The memory of meatless legitimate markets is fresh. Hides disappeared, owing to black market slaughtering. Other industrial raw materials were available only in black markets. Hence, if we select only food for control, price increases will flow into other commodities and ultimately affect all prices.

Sound of "Voices"

The idea of selective wage control is absurd. If the President listened to the voice of politics in preparing his message, he would hear those voices intensified ten-fold when he started to select the wages he would control. How would he fix wages in the industry where he would start to fix prices—namely, agriculture? How would he fix wages in iron and steel production without touching wages in all those industries which turn steel into consumer goods? Workers would move from steel mills to other manufacturing industries and thus reduce the productio of vitally needed steel. How would organized labor greet an effort to depress wages in selected industries?

Since the Truman message was directed at the Republican opposition, it would seem wise to meet the challenge not by phrases and name-calling, but by rational arguments. For the arguments are available in great abundance.

Tough Guys

By Truman Twill

It is with regret that the waning of anot football season is marked. Football players ne looked fiercer than they did in 1947.

They are the only athletes who ever look th part. One studies their pictures and ceases to worry about the beating they are going to tak on the gridiron. Most of them even look formidable on the football field, which is a much bett trick—and the exceptions are semi-lethal freak capable of taking and dishing out more dama than men three times their size.

Basketball players, on the other hand, alway look in their pictures, as if they needed mothering. This is because no man photographs well i his bare legs, except fellows like Weismulle Also, basketball players tend to run stringbeany, than which nothing could be more repulsive in the semi-nude.

Track athletes give the impression the house is on fire and they have taken refuge on the roof, where someone took a candid-camera snapshot of them in an unhappy state of mind an body. They never look able to do the things the are said to be able to do, such as jumpin through the air several dozen feet, or runn a mile in less time than it takes to say "Vishinsky."

Baseball players, of course, pay a heavy pri for being part of a national tradition that cludes baggy pants, blouses cut like a barg basement suit and caps copied directly fro someone's warmed-over impression of an Abyssinian pinhead in a circus circa 1897. One doe not feel sorry for baseball players, merely credulous

Fencers, hockey players, soccer players, cross country runners, tumblers, weight-lifters, go ers—all fall short in appearance of the qua cations for their sport. But not football play Even at pre-prosperity prices it used to co umpsteen dollars to camouflage a football pl which meant giving him the pigskin look.

Enormous pads must be laid over his sh ders to conceal the fact they are below standa armor plate installed in his pants to make it appear he is invulnerable, though in fact he may be a twitching mass of bruises: heavy socks pulled over his legs, which may or may not be birdy; his noggin stuffed into a padded ca to protect the soft places in it.

It's too bad football season is over. It's the only time the American male ever comes close to looking as if he were up to his responsibilit es

Baldauf-Goyer Vows Exchanged In Marion Church

EMANUEL Lutheran church was the scene of the wedding Saturday of Miss Dorothy Janis Baldauf, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Baldauf of 226 Summit street, to Robert H. Goyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Goyer of 803 Irey avenue. The couple repeated their vows at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon before the altar decorated with palms and lighted by candles in four seven branch candelabra. Large white bows were tied on the candelabra, and the two gold vases on the altar were filled with white mums. Rev. M. E. Hollensen, pastor, officiated, and the custom of open church was observed.

Marking the pews along the center aisle were lighted candles on high pedestals. To each were tied smilax and large white satin bows with the ends extending to the floor.

Preceding the ceremony, a program of nuptial music was presented by Miss Wanda McMahon, organist, and Miss Barbara McDonald, vocalist. Miss McMahon's selections included "Call Me Thine Own," "Always," "Clair de Lune," "Liebestraum," "Indian Love Call," "Oh Promise Me," "My God and I," "I Love You Truly," and the traditional wedding marches. Miss McDonald sang "I Love Thee," Grieg, "At Dawning," Cadman, and "Thine Alone," Herbert. At the close of the ceremony as the coupled kneeled at the altar, Miss McDonald sang "The Lord's Prayer," Malotte.

The bride, escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of shell pink hammered satin. Styled with a long torso, a fold of satin accented the bodice at the hips and extended to a point in the front to which the skirt was gathered. The skirt extended into a long circular train. An applique of satin trimmed the dress at the neckline to form a yoke. Her veil of English illusion was held by a Marie Antoinette headpiece. An applique of satin edged below the hip length veil. She carried a satin covered testament topped with a corsage of shell pink camellias showered with nile green ribbon streamers to which were tied the shell pink flowers.

Serving as maid of honor and only attendant for the bride was her sister, Miss Mary Katherine Baldauf. Her gown of sea green hammered satin was styled like that of the bride with a low cut neckline. Her hat of spruce green velvet was accented with a bow in the back and long streamers. She carried a cascade bouquet of trailing smilax showered with lemon colored carnations.

The candles were lighted by Miss Ann Goyer, sister of the bridegroom, in yellow faile, and Miss Jane Baldauf in white nylon. Both wore wrist corsages of gardenias with ribbon forming a muff effect.

William Bradley of Milwaukee, Wis., served as best man, and ushers were Richard Lemnitzer and Paul Keller of Worthington, O.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Baldauf chose a teal blue dress with which she combined black accessories. Mrs. Goyer was attired in a royal blue dress with black accessories. Each wore a corsage of deep ping camellias.

TABER WARNS HE'LL FIGHT BUDGET OF FORTY BILLION

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1 — If President Truman goes to congress next month with a $40,000,000,000 budget for the coming fiscal year he will face a hot fight from Chairman Taber (R-NY) of the house appropriations committee

"That's utterly ridiculous," Taber said of the estimate disclosed privately by administration officials familiar with figures going into the spending budget for the 12 months starting next June 1 "That will stand some close study and some cutting It's bigger than this year's budget and we should be getting spending down instead of up"

Taber said he has no official estimates of the new budget and doesn't expect them until the President sends his budget message to congress in January

"But a forty billion dollar budget is just plain out of the question" said the New Yorker whose budget-cutting actions in the past have earned him the nickname of "Meat Axe John" among his colleagues

ALASKA PLANE CRASH KILLS 7

Ten Others Hurt as 4-Engined Craft Hits Auto in Landing at Seattle.

By The Associated Press

SEATTLE, Dec. 1—Seven persons are dead and 10 others injured critically today following a fiery crash in which a four-engined Alaska Airlines transport overshot a runway yesterday at the Seattle-Tacoma airport and smashed a passing automobile.

Twenty-six of the 28 aboard the big plane scrambled from door and emergency exits or were pulled from the flames by rescuers. All, however, were seared by the gasoline-fed flames that flashed through the fuselage. Four of the rescued died later.

The latest casualty was the plane's stewardess, Miss Reba Monk of Santa Monica, Calif., who was credited by survivors with having led many of the passengers to safety.

List of Dead

The other dead are:

Fred Smith, Tacoma, Wash.;

Leslie Howe, 33, Seattle and Spokane, Wash.;

Ole Ring, Anchorage, Alaska;

Mrs. Virginia Stitsworth, 33, Tacoma, entertainer known professionally as Virginia Grafton.

Gordon Johnson, 21-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Johnson, Palmer, Alaska.

Mrs. Pearl Stella Jones, 43, Seattle, blind woman trapped in the car which the big transport smashed as it careened off the field onto the intersection of the Des Moines, Wash., highway and 158th St.

Ten others of the plane's passengers and crew members were in critical condition at Seattle and Renton hospitals. Several were not expected to live.

Bodies of two of the dead were not recovered until nearly four hours after the crash because of the intense heat emitting from the wreckage.

Run Into Fog

The plane, a DC-4, crashed only a few minutes after it had been turned back from an attempted landing at Seattle's Boeing field by fog. Two airport employes in the control tower at the Seattle-Tacoma field said the ceiling radioed to Pilot James Evan Farris, Seattle, as the plane settled through the overcast was "600 feet with one and one-quarter miles visibility." Three minutes after the crash, a special reading showed the ceiling at "400 feet with three-quarters of a mile visibility."

Harold K. Phillips, chief of the non-scheduled maintenance division for the civil aeronautics administration, sped to the scene for official inquiry and said:

"Apparently the pilot ground-looped when he saw he was going off the runway."

SOVIET ATHLETES HAVE DUAL ROLE

By International News Service

LONDON—Soviet Russia annually spends hundreds of millions of rubles to build up a front-line corps of trained athletes ready for "labor and defense" of the U.S.S.R.

Some 12 million Soviet citizens have passed specially devised physical culture tests to qualify for a "Ready for Labor and Defense of the U.S.S.R." badge.

By training millions of men and women for "sport" the Soviet Government also has sharpened them for combat.

A Tass news agency report broadcast by Moscow radio and picked up in London by the Soviet Monitor reveals that during the 20 years prior to the Second World War, 600 first-rate stadiums were built for Soviet sportsmen.

Dmitri Postnikov, vice chairman of the U.S.S.R. committee for Physical Culture and Sport, in an interview with a Tass reporter said important sports facilities constructed during the same period include: 14,000 athletic grounds (excluding those in rural areas), 500 excellently equipped aquatic sports centers, and thousands of skiing bases and skating rinks.

As far back as 1931, the Soviet government approved a special system of physical culture tests and those passing them qualified for the "Ready for Labor and Defense of the U.S.S.R." badge.

According to Postnikov, factories, institutions, and higher educational establishments of the U.S.S.R. now possess 70,000 sports groups. During nine months of the current year they organized about 100,000 contests in various sports, in which nearly 15 million sportsmen took part.

Every spring and summer millions of Soviet citizens take part in skiing, skating, and field and track events sponsored by the trade unions and youth organizations.

The State Committee for Physical Culture organized 85 U.S.S.R. championships this year. About 16,000 contestants participated.

It seems safe to say, then, that when the time comes for entering military service, not many of Russia's millions of sports participants will "flunk" the physical examination.

SEES POSSIBILITY OF PRICE, WAGE FREEZE

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1—Secretary of Commerce Harriman told congress today that a general freeze of prices and wages might be necessary in the future unless authority is granted now for selective price and wage controls and rationing.

Renewing the administration's plea for "stand by" power to put on economic controls, Harriman told the house banking committee:

"Adequate advance preparation makes for fairness. I believe that it is advisable to start developing a program now rather than to risk the need of hasty action later when the only feasible course might be to put on the brakes by some type of general freeze on prices and wages and then to proceed to correct the individual inequities as rapidly as possible."

It was the third appearance of Harriman before a congressional committee in support of the 10 point program President Truman laid before congress as the weapons he needs to combat inflation.

NEW GENERAL STRIKE THREATENS IN ITALY

By The Associated Press

ROME, Dec. 1—The prospect of a nationwide strike of municipal employes threatened today add to the difficulties of Premier Alcide De Gasperi's Christian Democrat government, which has been under fire from the left wing for the last three weeks.

Rome city workers announced last night they had approved the national federation's decision to strike tomorrow "after the failure of all peaceful means" to obtain higher pay and the right to organize.

However, at Lucca in Tuscany employes of that city and nearby Capannori defied the national federation by voting in a secret ballot not to strike.

The nationwide municipal strike threat came after Italy's first completely quiet day since the extreme left was excluded from the government last May and opened a campaign to unseat de Gasperi.

People Eating More Despite High Prices

By The United Press

BERKELEY, Calif.—People are eating more now—despite high prices—than they did 10 years ago.

Per capita food consumption in 1946 was 17 per cent above 1936, and one authority says it may go even higher this year.

Dr. Harry R. Wellman, research director of a University of California study group, said people still spend only 23 per cent of their income for food, despite higher retail prices. Higher incomes have equalized the difference for most people, he added.

Lausche Petitions Requested of Hummel

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 1—Secretary of State Edward J. Hummel reported today a request for 200 Frank J. Lausche-for-governor petitions from Anthony Archdeacon of Cleveland.

"Don't worry about them not being signed," Hummel said Archdeacon's request read. "They will be by the time filing day is up."

The deadline for filing is Feb. 4.

Although several political leaders have expressed belief the former Democratic governor will seek nomination, Lausche has not declared his intentions.

Three others already have announced they would seek the Democratic nomination.

Rev. Hinerman spoke on consecration and surrender of lives to Christ as "steps to salvation and steps to heaven." He declared that to be spirit-filled Christians, "We should surrender our family and friends, our ambitions and our job, our reputation, our pocketbooks, our social life, recreation and amusements. If we surrender our will, all these other things will be taken care of." At the December meeting, Rev. Clifford Lewis of Winona Lake, Ind., will speak. He is a brother of Rev. Marvin Lewis.

to the Potsdam line, so the Germans would seek to move up to a new line in western Europe.

Against that the security of the western powers demands not merely formal and verbal guaranties—like Mr. Byrnes' treaty—but material and substantial ones. They can be found only in the Ruhr.

The fact that Germany will have lost so much territory in the east makes it imperative that Germany must lose in some form or other something of equal importance in the west.

That does not mean, need not mean, and should not mean, that the Ruhr, and that these resources Germany, or that the resources of the Ruhr should be denied to the Germans.

But it does mean that the new central German government must be deprived of sovereignty over the coal and steel resources of th Ruhr, and that these resources should be subject not to German law but to an international statute. There are many reasons why this is desirable.

But there is one reason why it is necessary. It is that the German irredentists will otherwise be able to use the resources of the Ruhr to bargain exclusively with Russia. We cannot leave Germany, and no peace can be trusted, unless Germany is compelled by the nature of the basic settlement to deal with the west as much as it deals with the east.

Women who like a martini at 12:01 p. m., and say brightly: "First one this afternoon."

Men who down their tenth highball of the evening at 12:01 a. m., and say brightly: "First one this morning."

People who say anything before taking a drink.

Cold pork gravy, dirt dishes, unmade beds, extravagantly cute birth announcements mailed in tiny envelopes, visitors who stay after midnight, and grown men who never get dirt under their fingernails.

CAB DRIVERS who strike up a conversation or agree with your gripes just to earn a bigger tip. Also the attendants in the men's rooms of night clubs—"the useless demanding tribute to perform the unnecessary."

Hatcheck girls who sneer daintily if you fork over less than two bits to buy back the battered felt you couldn't hock for 12 cents at a pawnshop.

Elevator operators too cowardly to murder passengers who say: "Your life sure has its ups and downs."

People who look at you as if you were an idiot because you admit you never owned a motor car, can't drive one and don't want to learn how.

Bubble gum, inconsiderate restaurant waiters, salesmen who want me to buy a swimming pool, shirts with long collar points that curl up into my eyes, and mothers who hand me babies to hold that don't wear rubber pants.

Dentists who say "this will hurt a little" when you both know it is going to hurt like a hammer on the skull.

The sound of women crunching on dry toast in a quiet room.

Professional ballroom dance acts, juggler, and men who wear in public expensive neckties illustrated with hand-painted figures of nude women. (On the other hand, if they just buy them to hang on a tierack in their room and stare at them, that's okay.)

THE SO-CALLED "new look.", which reduces fair ladies to the semblance of medieval cavalry horses in velvet drapes.

All physical exercise except walking and talking, sweet pickles gray wartime pennies, men who hoarded white shirts when they were scarce and now rarely wear them, and women who blurt, 'My girdle is killing me," and then don't die."

Printed sales letters that begin, "you are one of the intelligent people of America, one who—."

Friends whose hair isn't falling out as fast as mine, and others who just remark: "If your brow gets any higher you'll be combing your backbone."

This is my index of irritations. Send me yours—and when I get the complete list perhaps we can vote all the nuisances out of this nerve-frayed world at once.

Love's Perilous Path

By ADELE GARRISON

THERE was the faintest hint of an edge in Mary's voice which told me that she was still resenting the "undertones" with which Olina, Noel and Georges were investing her possible reactions, and those of Georges, to the coming secret nuptials, planned by my father for the Sag Harbor farmhouse where Georges was to have sanctuary until it was safe for him to proceed with his mission.

I had told her that Olina had no doubt of her reactions, but that she could not be sure until she saw George and Mary together at the wedding that her royal suitor's heart would not give an extra throb or two when he saw the girl who so nearly had been his wife—and his queen—in the days of their early romantic acquaintance.

Mary apparently had accepted my version, but I saw now that there was still a slight doubt in her heart concerning Olina's thought of her, and I hoped devoutly that the exiled princess of Transvania would be able to banish that doubt by the naturalness of her own behavior.

"There wasn't a trumpet handy," I told her, laughing, "so I couldn't 'double for a herald.' But Olina isn't putting on any royal airs. She's simply anxious—terribly—to see you."

I had kept my own voice to a murmur, and when I had finished speaking, Mary rose to her feet, and came swiftly toward me.

"Then let's end her suspense," she said, and in another second, she had opened the door, and gone into the living room.

"Mary!" "'Lina!" The exclamations sounded simultaneously as I came through the door and saw the two unusually beautiful women in each other's arms. I skirted them noiselessly, put an easy chair opposite the one in which Olina had been sitting, and took one myself a little to the rear.

But neither Mary nor Olina noticed my movements. They were absorbed in each other. Olina was pale, but radiant, while Mary apparently was bubbling over.

"This is the most wonderful news, 'Lina," she exclaimed. "I actually held my head to keep it from spinning off when Auntie Madge told me. Georges is safe and unharmed, and your marriage actually planned for Sag Harbor. If I had a hat here, I'd throw it up and give the rebel yell, or something. I'm so glad for you. But you get the general idea, don't you?"

As always, Mary had managed to lay the ghost of any possible embarrassment. The atmosphere was cleared, and Olina's eyes lost their tense, strained expression.

"Isn't it wonderful?" she asked. "I'm not certain myself whether my head is fastened to my neck or my heels. I've just three things firmly in my mind. Georges is safe and well—Aunt Madge saw him—he wants me to marry him immediately, and Mr. Spencer is planning a pretty family wedding, in spite of the fact that Georges' whereabouts must be kept a secret."

"That's enough to set your head spinning," Mary said. "But tell me about the plans for the wedding. Aunt Madge gave me only the sketchiest outline."

"Oh!" Olina exclaimed. "I'm glad you don't know much, for I'm simply yearning to tell you."

"Go ahead!" Mary said, settling herself comfortably in her easy chair. "My 'shell-like' ears are three times their normal size."

Olina plunged into the wedding plans, while Mary, with her Thespian skill, managed to look as if she had not heard every last detail from me a little while before. Olina told of my father's plan to have a publicity surrounded house party for the Philip Veritzens given by Dicky and me at the harmhouse, thus camouflaging a pretty family wedding which should lack nothing of charm, even though it would have to be kept a profound secret.

"How perfectly marvelous!" Mary said. "What are you going to wear?"

"I don't know," Olina said, and for the first time there was the hint of color in her voice. "Of course in the old time, before Maman and I had to flee for our lives, I always had planned to wear Maman's wedding gown and veil. But they're down in the secret chambers beneath the demolished castle. Now, I'll just have to wear a suit or something."

"You will, like heck," Mary said, leaning forward. "Look here, darling! We're about of a size. Why couldn't you wear my wedding gown?"

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

Secretary Harriman says he hopes for a drop in the price of meat. And this tome right before Christmas is a good time to express all our little hopes and wishes.

I'm not sure whether Harriman's hope was addressed to us or Santa Claus.

The secretary recommends "voluntary curtailment of meat consumption" . . . This is the fourth popular revision of Sen. Taft's unpopular recommendation to "eat less" . . . But we like our grits with a little honey on 'em.

But as I understand it now, Mr. Truman would like to have several powers which he has no intention of using . . . It makes a kind of sense these days.

Still we aren't having as much trouble with commies as Italy and France . . . Where their's are very tough, ours are too bashful to even admit they are Commies.

And DeGaulle stands ready to save France. Provided it collapses enough.

HARDING, ST. MARY OPEN BASKETBALL SEASON THIS WEEK

Prexies To Meet Bexley In Traditional Opener Friday

Friday night the Harding High school Presidents open their 1947-48 basketball campaign with Coach Carlton Smith's Bobcats from Bexley in the Edison Junior High school gym.

The meeting is a traditional one between the two schools. Coach Smith and ex-Harding cage mentor Dewey N. Bohyer, now athletic director for Marion schools, were buddies in college and shared their athletic talents at Ohio Wesleyan. The annual game between the two schools is not expected to lose any of its tradition now that Kenny Somerlot is coaching the Prexies.

Coach Somerlot said his team has a long way to come but that they are already as good as last year's squad. In a six-quarter scrimmage with last year's team held Wednesday night, the 1947 edition of the Prexies battled the grads on even terms, and Somerlot expects the Prexies to improve a lot as the season progresses.

Three Dicks and two Jims are slated to start in the Prexy lineup Friday. Dick Riddle and Dick Clark are the forwards; Dick Thomas and Jim Rae, guards, and Jim Coss, center.

Another Dick, the drop-kicking artist of the football Prexies—Dick Gherman—will probably see a lot of action as a forward. A toe injury sustained in the last football game has hampered him in cage practices.

Bob Short, who has been playing forward, will probably be converted to a guard to spell off Jim Rae, who has been in ill health.

Other varsity cagers are juniors Al Estes, Roger Andrews and Ed Roseberry. Estes is a comer, said Coach Somerlot, and plays guard and forward. Andrews and Roseberry are centers.

Bill Buckingham, a forward and Tom Taylor, a guard, fill out the varsity squad. Don Johnson, a center, is another comer, but won't be eligible to play until the next semester.

The Bexley Bobcats lost several good men by graduation, but Somerlot expects them to be as tough this year as always.

MIAMI TO CONSIDER BID TO SUN BOWL

By The Associated Press

OXFORD, O., Dec. 1—Miami university's athletic board today planned a special session to consider—and, from all indications, accept—an invitation extended to the school's unbeaten football team to play in the Sun Bowl game at El Paso, Tex., New Year's day.

The formal bid was telephoned yesterday to Head Coach Sid Gillman in Cleveland where he and other Miami officials attended a Mid-American conference meeting. The call came from C. D. Belding, chairman of the Sun Carnival team selection committee.

Acceptance of the invitation would pit the 1947 Redskins, Miami's first unbeaten team, against Texas Tech's Red Raiders in the El Paso classic.

Gillman said he was confident the athletic board would okay acceptance of the bid, barring some unforseen objection.

Edison Cagers Rout New Bloomington, 103-45

Edison High school, Morrow county cage leaders, continued on a winning rampage Saturday night by trouncing New Bloomington, 103-45, on the loser's court.

Maynard Goare, Coach Fred's brother, sunk 31 baskets and one foul shot for a total of 63 points. Coach "Lucky" Goare yanked out most of his first string in the second quarter and they did better than the starters.

Edison added Cardington to their list Wednesday night, 45-36. They now are unbeaten in nine games, five of them regular, four practice.

About 25 tickets to the Harding and St. Mary football banquet Wednesday night are still on sale at Markert and Lewis. The banquet, an annual event sponsored by the Inter-Club council, will be held in Moira hall of St. Mary church at 6:30 p. m.

Coach Glen Frazer of Ohio Wesleyan will be guest speaker, and Coach Gene Fetter of St. Mary and Coach Pete Howison of Harding are slated to appear on the program.

RESIGNATION REMAINS

By The Associated Press

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Dec. 1 As far as President Irvin Stewart of West Virginia university is concerned, football Coach Bill Kern's resignation stands—a reported petition by 22 players to retain him notwithstanding. Coach Kern, the president said, had resigned before the game. "His resignation was accepted. The athletic situation is the same as it was before the game."

COLLEGE SEASON TO END IN BOWL GAMES

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Dec. 1—They prepared the 1947 college football season for moth balls today and the fans, left limp by one of the dizziest of campaigns, began collecting second wind for the bowl madness Jan. 1.

There is only one genuine pulse-quickener left on the regular schedule—that's Notre Dame's encounter with Southern California Saturday in Los Angeles. The handful of other remaining games are minor.

The unblemished Fighting Irish will be out to clinch the mythical national championship by making a better showing against the once-tied Trojans than does Michigan in the Rose Bowl on New Year's day.

But regardless of what occurs the rest of the way, the 1947 season already goes into the books as one crammed with surprises.

It was a year that saw Army, unconquerable for three seasons, lose two games and tie two and then roar back for one magnificent afternoon to smother Navy, 21-0.

Dark horses were the rule rather than the exception in emerging as sectional champions.

Dark Horse In Southern

In the Southeastern conference, where Alabama, Tennessee, Georgia and Georgia Tech have long been dominant, little Mississippi rode to the title crest behind passing Charley Conerly and snagging Barney Poole by beating Mississippi State, 33-14. Mississippi will play T.C.U. in Memphis Delta Bowl.

Southern Methodist, although tied, 19-19, in its final game by T.C.U., surprised by beating out Texas and Rice in the wide-open Southwest conference. S.M.U. plays Penn State in the Cotton Bowl. William and Mary outdistanced favored North Carolina in the Southern.

Georgia Tech, slated for the Orange Bowl in Miami against Kansas, edged past Georgia, 7-0, and Kansas overwhelmed Arizona, 54-28, in other top flight final Saturday games.

Alabama, which has a Sugar Bowl date with Texas in New Orleans, had anything but easy sailing in triumphing over Miami (Fla.), 21-6, Saturday night.

Texas Tech Wins

Texas Tech won a spot in the Sun Bowl by jolting favored Hardin-Simmons, 14-6, for the Border conference championship.

Two teams gave their resigning coaches a good sendoff. Holy Cross won over favored Boston College, 20-6, for Ox Dagrosa, and West Virginia's Mountaineers, whose Coach Bill Kern quit last week, trounced Pittsburgh, 17-2 — the first West Virginia win over Pitt in 19 years.

Fast-finishing Tennessee outlasted Vanderbilt, 12-7. North Carolina won over Virginia, 40-7, in a Southern conference duel and handed Kansas State its 26th straight setback, 25-7.

U. of Colorado Becomes 7th Team in Big Six

By The Associated Press

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 1—The University of Colorado officially became a member of the Big Six conference (Missouri Valley Intercollegiate Athletic association) today, marking the first expansion of the league since it began operations in 1928.

The seven-team circuit will continue to be known as the Big Six until someone comes up with a name that proves popular over the area. The conference's faculty committee, which voted membership to Colorado at its March 1 meeting, has declined to offer a new nickname for the league.

Charter members of the Big Six are Missouri, Kansas, Kansas State, Oklahoma, Nebraska and Iowa State.

HARRY STROBEL AP COACH OF THE YEAR

Mentor of Undefeated Barberton May Pilot All-Stars.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 1—It looks as if Barberton is Ohio's High school football capital on all counts.

The Mighty Magics, roaring through nine straight opponents, were rated the No. 1 team in the state by the sports scribes. Then two of the team's titans—tackle Bob Toneff and halfback Dick Goudy—won All-Ohio berths on The Associated Press first team.

Now it's Coach Harry Strobel's turn, and his reward is a runaway designation as the "coach of the year," plus an unofficial but impressive pat on the back as the guy favored to pilot the Northern All-Stars in the annual clinic game sponsored by the Ohio High School Football Coaches association.

Honor Nothing New

Being the toast of the town is nothing new to Strobel. He's known as a football doctor, having cured the pigskin ills at several spots.

He was a basketball and baseball star at Massillon High school, then shone in those two sports, plus football, at Miami university. He pitched a no-hit no-run game against Denison which he still tells about with gusto, and was a stationary guard—now a defunct position—in basketball. In football he was a guard and tackle.

His first coaching job was at Brilliant, O., where he introduced football. His opening year he won three, lost three and tied three. Two years later, in 1934, his record was 6-1-1, and moved him on to North Canton where he compiled a 7-1-1 mark. Then he shifted to Louisville, and next to Orrville where his 1939 and 1940 teams were undefeated and he placed a big tackle, Lowell Bradford, on the first All-Ohio team. Bradford probably was the first of the state's class B players to win that honor.

26 Straight At Bellevue

Swinging over to Bellevue, Strobel displayed his coaching versatility by piloting his team to 26 straight victories and the class A state basketball title, handing Middletown its only defeat of the year in the finals.

Then came Barberton, where with a crack team inherited to a great extent from Karl Harter, who had moved up to director of athletics, he won eight and lost one, a 7-6 thriller to Alliance. This year he hit the jackpot. Over 16 seasons he has won 83, lost 43 and tied 14, a top record considering the "rebuilding" jobs he has undertaken.

Yanks Earn Crack At Browns; Whip Buffalo

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Dec. 1—The New York Yankees and the Cleveland Browns will collide for the All-America Football conference championship Dec. 14 for the second straight year.

The Yanks, led by Spec Sanders and Buddy Young, won their second straight eastern division title yesterday by crushing the runner-up Buffalo Bills, 35-13, at the Yankee stadium.

Young sparked the Yanks to a 14-0 halftime lead and, after the bills shortened the gap to 21-13 early in the last period, Sanders got going, ripping off 22 and 56 yard runs in two touchdown drives to cement the verdict.

The Browns, who defeated the Yanks in last year's championship game, were idle along with San Francisco, Los Angeles and Brooklyn.

ANGEL CAGERS BEAT GREENWICH LEGION

Browns Seek More Gold In Trades at Minor Loop Meet

By The Associated Press

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 1—The St. Louis Browns, richer by $425,000 following four startling transactions, sought more gold today, dangling such tasty bait as outfielder Jeff Heath and catcher Jake Early among other front line players.

Among the first to arrive for the annual minor league convention which gets under way Wednesday, the Browns' delegation of General Manager Bill Dewitt, his brother, Charles, secretary of the club, and Zach Taylor, the new manager, already have set up shop in one of this winter resort's leading hotels.

Bill Dewitt made it plain that others of last season's squad which finished a dismal last in the American league race are certain to follow Vern Stephens, Jack Kramer and others who made Thanksgiving merry for St. Louis stockholders, financially speaking.

Browns Not Through Trading

"We are not through trading by any means," Dewitt said. "We are prepared to trade anybody on our roster if we feel those deals will improve the club."

Dewitt was not the only would-be David Harum at the minor leagues' show, which attracted such big time pilots as Mel Ott of the New York Giants; Joe McCarthy, Red Sox; Johnny Neun, Cincinnati Reds; Bill Meyer, Pittsburgh Pirates, and Bucky Harris of the Yankees.

Robert E. Hannegan, who recently purchased the St. Louis Cardinals, was one of the early arrivals. Also here were Horace Stoneham, Giants; George Weiss, Yankees; John Quinn, Boston Braves; Warren Giles, Cincinnati Reds; Joe Cronin, Red Sox; Ray Hamey, Pirates. Herb Pennock, Phillies and Billy Evans, Detroit Tigers.

Branch Rickey, Brooklyn president, was not expected here.

Evans, general manager of the Tigers, said he was awaiting arrival of the Cleveland Indians contingent and Meyer was keeping mum about the reported deal between Pittsburgh and Brooklyn involving Dixie Walker, Vic Lombardi and Hal Gregg of the Dodgers and Billy Cox and Preacher Roe of the Pirates.

Along the business front, the American Associaton, through its president and spokesman, Frank Lane, went on record as opposing the Pacific Coast league's proposals for a special major-minor status by a unanimous 80 vote.

"Why doesn't the coast quit trying to kid everybody including itself," Lane said at the conclusion of his circuit's five-hour session.

The International lyeague, the third of the present trio of triple A minors, meets today and probably will follow the A A's example. The major leagues will have the final say as to the coast's proposal which contains five demands, including the right to be called Pacific Coast Major league and the raising of the draft price from $10,000 to $25,000 as well as six years's service required.

Clarence Rowland, president of the PCL, called a special session of his loop today which will be followed by another with George Trautman, president of the National associations.

Snatches of Sports

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 1—Now that the football season has everyone completely confused (the "regular" season goes on with such games as Notre Dame-Southern California but there also are two "bowl" games this week) let's go indoors for an equally goofy basketball season. . . . Tulane opens the big-time doubleheader season at Madison Square Garden tomorrow with a squad of five New Orleans boys, 10 from Indiana and one each from Kentucky and Illinois. . . . Coach Cliff Wells tutored Indiana High school cagers for 29 years before going to Tulane. . . . And this isn't pointing the finger at Cliff, because everybody is getting them where he can these days. . . . The Garden schedule calls for 11 doubleheaders before Christmas. . . . Philadelphia, Boston, Chicago, Buffalo, etc., all will be staging big-time pre-Christmas shows, but the topper comes from Peoria, Ill. . . . Bradley U., carrying on all by itself, will play three successive bargain bills with such teams as Hardin-Simmons, West Texas State and Texas Christian furnishing the main opposition, and then will go to Boston to play Harvard.

ED BANG'S Cleveland News fight show tomorrow presents four bouts that would be main events almost anywhere else, with Ezzard Charles vs. Fitz Fitzpatrick on top. . . . Emil Sitko, Notre Dame halfback, has been tabbed "Six-Yard" because his average gains for two years have been just about that. . . . Don Boven, who wound up the football season at Oklahoma City Thanksgiving day, will head the Western Michigan basketball team when it invades the Garden next Saturday. And Denver's Dick Yates is passing up a football trip to Hawaii to come east with the basketballers. . . . Branch Rickey Jr. offers to bet the Pirates will finish in the first division next season, but he won't give away any likely trades by saying what the Bucs will finish with.

MID-AMERICAN LOOP NAMES ALL-STARS

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Dec. 1—Warren Lahr, Western Reserve university's speedy halfback, received the only unanimous vote for a berth on the Mid-American conference's 1947 all-star football team which was announced here today.

Miami university's Redskins placed five players on the team and Cincinnati, awarded the conference grid title trophy yesterday, rated three positions.

Miami players on the all-star team were end Bill Hoover, tackle John Weaver, center Paul Dietzel and backs Mel Olix and Ara Parsighian.

Cincinnati selections were tackle Dick Langenbeck, guard John Vilkoski and back Roger Stephens.

In addition to Lahr, Western Reserve had end Cass Sisler on the honored list; and guard Dick Zednik of Ohio university completed the team. Out-of-state members of the conference—Butler of Indiana and Western Michigan—failed to land a gridder in the all-star lineup.

Irish To Meet Lima St. Gerard In Ohio Northern Gym Tuesday

Coach Gene Fetter of St. Mary will unload his favorite basketball defense—the pressing man-for-man—against Lima St. Gerard Tuesday night in Ohio Northern university's Taft gym in Ada.

The game will be St. Mary's season opener and St. Gerard's sixth.

Along with the tight defense, he'll unwrap guard Bob Stuber who has been all taped up since sustaining an injury in the Marysville football game earlier in the season.

Fetter considers Stuber his ace man at defense and has been sweating out his condition since the football game in which Stuber wrenched his shoulder. Stuber had been working out with the squad this week and has been getting his shoulder in condition for the past month. Since his injury, he has had to work out with his shoulder taped up, but will be ready to go Tuesday night, said Fetter

Other Irish cagers Fetter is counting on are forwards John Baldauf and Dick Schuler, center Dick Drake, and guard Dan Smith

Jim Moloney at center and Bob Cusick at guard will make up the rest of his first team.

Starting reserve lineup Nick Maniaci and Ed Moloney, guards. Bill Moloney, center, and Jim Cusick and Bill Merchant, forwards.

Kevin Krigbaum and Joe Maniaci are two other reserve guards Fetter will draw on, and Paul Cusick is a forward.

The Irish will meet a fine ball club in St. Gerard. They have won five games and lost none this season, having started almost [illegible] weeks ago. They won from Glandorf, 36-24, Sidney Holy Angels, 39-25, Harrod, 46-34, Gomer, 44-34, and Wapakoneta St. Joseph, 64-42. St. Gerard coach is Harry Schlott.

On Saturday night, the Irish will travel to Columbus to meet Columbus Holy Family.

New York Stock Quotations

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Dec. 1—Mild recovery tendencies were displayed by selected stocks today although many market leaders faltered.

Dealings tapered after a rather quiet start. Fractional plus signs were a shade in the majority near midday.

A little bidding here and there was attributed to the belief that the list may have been oversold in the past week and was due for a technical comeback.

Ahead at intervals were U S Steel, Bethlehem Steel, Chrysler, Goodyear, Santa Fe, Southern Railway, Northern Pacific, Boeing, Douglas Aircraft, Anaconda, Kennecott, Westinghouse and J. C Penney. Occasional losers included General Motors, Sears Roebuck, Glenn Martin, Consolidated Edison, International Nickel, General Electric, Texas Co. and Great Northern Railway.

RAIL RATE PROBLEM PUT UP TO TRUMAN

Young Sends Letter on Need for Increased Revenue.

By International News Service

CLEVELAND, Dec. 1 — Robert R. Young, chairman of the Federation for Railway Progress, today in an open letter to President Truman vigorously supported the railroads' petition for a freight rate increase.

The letter, appearing today in the December issue of Railway Progress, monthly magazine of the Federation, also criticized government officials who the Chesapeake & Ohio board chairman accused of "impeding such an increase."

Young reviewed the deterioration of the market value of the railroad securities and "the even more alarming reduction in the number and the increasing age of the country's railroads' rolling stock.

"Now it is one thing to see the railroads selling at bankruptcy levels at a time of severe depression and drouth, but it is quite a different thing to see them selling at even less than bankruptcy levels when they are rendering the greatest service in their history to a host of industries groaning with prosperity."

He pointed out that in 20 years the country's fleet of freight cars has decreased from 2,300,000 cars to 1,700,000. Young adds in his letter to Mr. Truman:

"This alarming deterioration of what is probably as important to our defense as either the Army or the Navy can, if there is a catastrophe, be laid by the citizens directly at your door—first as a member, then as a ranking member of the senate committee of interstate commerce, and now as Chief Executive and Commander-in-Chief."
